ASCENSION CHARITY CLASSIC PRESENTED BY EMERSON TO SUPPORT NICKLAUS AND NORMANDIE GOLF COURSE RENOVATION PROJECT

Long-term partnership includes financial support, charitable and tournament alignment, and investments to help make golf more diverse and inclusive

ST. LOUIS (March 31, 2022) – The Ascension Charity Classic presented by Emerson, an official PGA TOUR Champions event held annually in North St. Louis County at historic Norwood Hills Country Club, has announced a long-term partnership with the Normandie Golf Course renovation project, led by the Metropolitan Amateur Golf Association and Beyond Housing, in conjunction with Nicklaus Design. The partnership will include financial support, charitable and tournament alignment, and investments to help make golf more diverse and inclusive in North St. Louis County and beyond.

An additional component of the new relationship includes a significant investment in the effort to restore and revitalize Normandie Golf Course, one of the oldest public golf courses west of the Mississippi River and located in North St. Louis County in the city of Bel-Nor. The option to purchase the real estate from the University of Missouri System (UMSL) has been exercised and the project is expected to break ground in the fall of 2022. In April 2021 it was announced that Nicklaus Design would lead the renovation effort and Normandie would become a Jack Nicklaus Signature Golf Course.

Moreover, Normandie Golf Course will be included as a potential qualifying site for both the Ascension Charity Classic and the Advocates Professional Golf Association (APGA) Tour's new Ascension Classic presented by Daugherty Business Solutions, with potential for eventually hosting the APGA Tour Ascension Classic in the future as well as hosting additional Ascension Charity Classic Pro-Am outings.

"It made perfect sense for the Ascension Charity Classic to get involved in this effort to restore and revitalize Normandie Golf Course given our long-term commitment to North St. Louis County through our PGA TOUR Champions and APGA Tour events, as well as our commitment to making golf more diverse and inclusive," said Nick Ragone, Executive Vice President and Chief Marketing Officer, Ascension. "We believe that a redesigned and revitalized Normandie Golf Course can play a major role in both the Ascension Charity Classic and the APGA Tour's Ascension Classic once the design work has been completed."

"We couldn't be more thrilled to have the Ascension Charity Classic involved in our effort to restore Normandie and make the game of golf more diverse and inclusive," said Tom O'Toole Jr., past USGA President and founder of the Metropolitan Amateur Golf Association. "In a short period of time, the Ascension Charity Classic has made an immense and positive impact on North St. Louis County, as well as for the game of golf in that region and throughout our community. This financial, charitable and tournament alignment will support and accelerate our plans.”

“We appreciate the Ascension Charity Classic’s long-term investments in North St. Louis County, and this partnership with the Normandie Golf project will only further our efforts to encourage investments in our community that reinforce and accelerate social change,” said Missouri State Senator Brian Williams.

The 2022 Ascension Charity Classic presented by Emerson will take place the week of September 6-11 at historic Norwood Hills Country Club in North St. Louis County. All proceeds from the tournament will again be distributed among area charities, including Marygrove, the Boys & Girls Clubs of Greater St. Louis, and the Urban League of Metropolitan St. Louis. The inaugural Ascension Charity Classic, concluded September 12, 2021, set new attendance marks for inaugural PGA TOUR Champions events and was one of the most attended events of the past two seasons. The Ascension Classic presented by Daugherty Business Solutions will be the first tournament in the APGA Tour’s Fall Series, a string of four events in St. Louis, Philadelphia, Atlanta and Los Angeles, that are part of the Tour’s 2022 schedule of 17 events offering over $700,000 in prize money. It will include practice rounds on Tuesday, Sept. 6, and Wednesday, Sept. 7, at Glen Echo Country Club in Normandy, Missouri, as well as a pro-am on Wednesday at the East Course at nearby Norwood Hills. General admission for the 36-hole stroke-play competition (Sept. 8-9) of this stand-alone APGA Tour event is free to the public and will provide area golf fans with another opportunity to enjoy thrilling tee-to-green action in St. Louis.
